- What factors determine whether or not a situation qualifies as an emergency?
- In your opinion, what actions are harmful in emergency situations?

Amber: Oh my goodness, Aaron! Do you see that blue station wagon in front of us? What do you think is going on? I hope there isn't going to be an accident!

Aaron: Yeah, I see it. It looks like it's weaving back and forth on the road. I hope it doesn't cross over the yellow line. I wonder if those people have been drinking.

Amber: I don't know what's going on, but now they're all over the road. They don't appear to be slowing down either. In fact, I think that they're accelerating.

Aaron: Do you think we should do something about it? Maybe we should call the police or flash our lights at them. What do you think?

Amber: It might end up being a distraction to the driver. What if that causes an accident? Oh my goodness, look! They are heading for the ditch.

Aaron: Honk at them, and flash your lights! Hand me your cell phone too. I'm going to inform the authorities. I sure hope those people are okay.

- The conversation states that the car in front is “weaving” and “all over the road.” What do you think this means?
- What would you do if you were in Amber and Aaron’s situation?

Correct the mistake

1. Police officers fights crime and keep the peace.
2. The most serious crimes are call felonies.
3. The ambulance rushed at the scene of the accident.
4. As soon as Delilah stopped breathing, the EMT was starting CPR.
5. Rick has been charge with two counts of armed robbery.

If there's a fire, you need to act quickly. So, make sure you're prepared and that everyone in your house knows exactly what to do before there is a fire. You should have an escape route planned that everyone is familiar with.

If there is a fire and you are able to make an escape, remember: don't delay for any reason. Forget about salvaging household valuables. If you have pets, don't attempt to look for them.

Only open the doors you need to, and close any open doors you can. Prior to opening any doors, feel them with the back of your hand; if they're warm, don't open them.

If your escape route is blocked, attempt to exit the house through a window. If at all possible, throw bedding or cushions onto the ground to break your fall. Remember to cover any jagged edges of broken glass with clothing, towels, or blankets. If you have children with you, lower them out first.

- What is the main idea of this passage?
- The article states that a person in a burning house should avoid looking for pets. How do you feel about this statement?
- The article states that it is very important for every family to have a planned escape route. Describe the best escape route for your house.

Match the idiom to its meaning

- 3) The African savannas are fraught with danger.
c) to use the same methods against your opponent that are used against you
- 4) I can only afford to give five dollars, but every little bit helps.
d) full of danger
- 5) Sometimes the best strategy is to fight fire with fire.
e) Even doing or giving a small amount makes an impact.

Form a question based on the response

Ex: How much money would you like to deposit?

1. Arnold keeps his badge in the glove compartment.
2. I have no idea who started the fire.
3. Out of all my friends, I think Dan would make the best police officer because he's always calm and confident.
4. The bank was robbed Sunday afternoon.
5. He has been a police officer for ten years.
